Syllabus Comprehension Quiz

- Due Aug 25 at 9am
- Points 9
- Questions 9
- Time Limit None
- Allowed Attempts Unlimited

Instructions

This quiz is designed to quickly assess your understanding of the syllabus. The questions on this quiz specifically target the types of questions we see often in the course that we know are answered in the syllabus, but seem to be easily overlooked. You may attempt this quiz as many times as you like to earn a perfect score.

This quiz is one of the five quizzes and surveys that count toward the Surveys portion of your participation score, which is 1% of your overall average in the course. This is the only one of these that is graded for accuracy rather than completion, however.

Note that this quiz is auto-graded according to Canvas's rules, so you must select all correct answers to receive credit. This differs from Exam grading in this class, where you receive partial credit for each correctly-selected and correctly-unselected answer.

1 / 1 pts

Which of the following statements is true about proper forum usage? (Select all that apply)

- [x] When asking a question that has a single correct answer, use a Question type.
- [x] When asking a question that does not have a single correct answer but could have multiple perspectives/answers, use a Post type.
- [x] When asking a question whose answer is relevant to the entire class, make the post Public.
- [x] When posting anonymously, classmates cannot see your name, but instructors and TAs can.
- [x] When asking a follow-up question or commenting on another student's Question, post a Comment instead of an Answer.

Question 4

1 / 1 pts

Question 6

0.5 / 1 pts

Which of the following is considered a primary goal of peer review? (Select all that apply)

- [ ] To generate grades for your classmates to use in their final grade calculation.
- [x] To see classmates' approaches and compare them to your own.
- [x] To shift your perspective to that of a critic, evaluating other work for strengths and weaknesses rather than generating your own work.
- [x] To get more feedback on your assignment than you would get from the grader alone.
- [ ] To pre-grade assignments to make it easier for the teaching assistants to evaluate your work.

Question 7

1 / 1 pts

Which of the following statements is true regarding the class's late work policy? (Select all that apply)

- [x] If a technical difficulty is preventing you from uploading to Canvas, upload your assignment privately to the forum ASAP to document that the assignment was completed on time.
- [x] In the event of a personal emergency, you should post privately to the forum to seek guidance on how to proceed depending on your particular situation.
- [ ] You may request extensions for both foreseen (vacations, business trips, etc.) and unforeseen (illness, family emergencies, etc.) interruptions.
- [x] We can only offer Incomplete grades for students able to complete at least 70% of the coursework during the semester.
- [ ] Once you post a request for an extension, you may assume that it will be approved and plan accordingly; you do not need to wait for a resposne.

Question 8

1 / 1 pts

Which of the following statements is true regarding what forum threads are promised to be reviewed by the instructor and teaching assistants?

- ( ) The instructor and teaching assistants review every message posted to the forum

- The instructor and teaching assistants review every thread posted to the forum, but not all the follow-up answers and messages
- The instructor and teaching assistants review every question posted to the forum, but not every post or follow-up.
- The instructor and teaching assistants review every unresolved question posted to the forum, but not every post, follow-up, or already-resolved question.

While the TAs and instructor read most of what's posted to the forum, the volume is too high to read everything! We focus on unresolved Questions to make sure students who are awaiting answers get answers.

Question 9

1 / 1 pts

Imagine this situation: you ask a question on the forum and a TA responds to your question. You now have a follow-up question that needs a TA response. What should you do?

- Post the follow-up question as an all-new question.
- Post the follow-up question as a comment on your original question.
- Unselect the green checkmark on the TA's answer and post your follow-up question as a comment on their answer.
- Post your follow-up question as a new answer to your own question.

The TAs' workflow is generally to filter the forum for unresolved questions. Unchecking the green checkmark marks your question as unresolved again, so the instructor and TAs will see it again. Then, you can ask your follow-up as a reply to the TA's answer.
